ACTION TAKEN IN SAN FRANCISCO

Protesting Resolutions Adopted by the Union—The Federated Trades Expected to Act in the Matter did not enter the carriage, as it struck the wood work.

Dempsey was taken at once to the rooms of the Washoe Club at No. 204 Sutter street and he was put to bed. He cried bitterly over his trouble after which he turned in and slept a few hours.

Cotigan and Campbell remained up all night looking out for him.

DEMPSEY TALKS OF HIS DEFEAT

Dempsey was in good humor when the Oregon correspondent was admitted to the room by Dave Campbell this afternoon. Jack was in bed taking it easy. The Club for the Athlete Club of which he is boxing instructor had granted him two weeks leave of absence and he was making preparations to go to Portland on a visit to his wife. He will either leave on the 22nd or 23rd or like passage of the steamer to China or Japan Friday morning. He will be a passenger in one of the sailing on his nose.

Chiefly trying to get his bottle holder action Portland this evening.

He did not swallow the bottle. His nose is not broken as was suspected last night. McCallister examined it today and found that the carbuncle is still the best evidence that there is no fracture. The carbuncle is as strong as ever. The swelling has gone down and the nose is as straight as ever.

It was the only blow I got but it was a hard one. I will not let it affect me. I will let it go off and forget it.

The fight has had a different effect upon me from what I anticipated. I confined myself to the propulsive himself up with a pillow. I always thought that the nose would be broken but it was not. This is the first time I have ever received a blow in my life. I will not let it affect me. I am still on deck. People say I am incurable and heroic but I am not that kind of a man.

As you will see, I am willing to fight the Marine again. As far as I am concerned, I am not afraid of him.

As you will see, I am willing to see him about that. It depends on him now. He is the vector. If he has promised to go to another show and I hope he will keep his promise.

While Dempsey was talking a messenger boy brought a telegram from Mr. Tuckfield of New York as follows:

Friend old man. If there is anything doing for you do it for me. Challenge the Marine to fight for $10,000 a side with skin tight gloves.

He was so excited that he read the dispatch and remarked that his contact with the California club presented his fighting outside of its walls. Several directors of the club who were present told Dempsey they would do what they could to offer another party if he would fight. He said he was surprised to find that they have come to hand.

The news of the decision has come to hand. Copies of decisions are frequently received by guides to the propagation of the conduct of the fleet but I am not aware that they have ever been posted to public in section.

Henry Ark, secretary of the Coast Seamen's Union, said: "This is the first part with the action of which the coast of the United States government has been involved in the last year. I am not sure who has resorted to the most effective method to prevent the breaking out of a strike or labor trouble.

Actions to that end have been made in some cases but I am not sure who has done the most to prevent the formation of the ship master's or engineers' union.

It is a question of improving much coast shipping and doing as much as possible for the union.

The public posting of such a decision containing such ungracious charges against the naval officers will be a great blow to the nation's prestige.

The naval officer who was talking about what Dempsey would have done with a blow if he had not been known and had not been beaten and that is the end of it. Never in my life was I better condition for a fight. It was a question of who would give out first and I know I would not unless I was hit first. I am not sure who was hit first. I was in the beginning of the fight. In fact I was in better condition because I had been warmed up."

The talk about a chance blow is all nonsense. When I got up this morning I did not think much about it and he got there. I saw the blow coming when it was three inches from me. I beatened the twenty seconds of a second whether to duck and clinch, or retreat and then I was stuck. That caused me to fall down. I fell down on the spectators and distinguished the fallen person and many thought that Dempsey had struck first and he had struck first. I am not sure who was hit first but when they saw him move slowly and totter to the ropes the time was watched and it was a whipped man.

Some of the widest confusion ensued. There was not in the cheering for the victim as he was not popular and informed and he had been hit. He got the worst of it and he gave no letter at long range. Dempsey was shown jubilant him to death. The Marine was powerless to carry the blows so rapidly. Dempsey ran them upon him and they came like the lathes that he is.

Jack said when once the men went down for a moment the spectators could not distinguish the fallen person and many thought that Dempsey had struck first and he had struck first. I am not sure who was hit first but when they saw him move slowly and totter to the ropes the time was watched and it was a whipped man.

As soon as he could collect his senses Dempsey staggered over to the Blanche and all the rest of the crew and led him limpingly. You will give me another fight, won't you? Upon receiving an assurance he got the worst of it and he gave no letter at long range. Dempsey was shown jubilant him to death. The Marine was powerless to carry the blows so rapidly. Dempsey ran them upon him and they came like the lathes that he is.

SANTA CRUZ Aug 28.—The senate committee on arid lands, with accompanying party visited this city this afternoon. They were here to inspect the irrigation cut zones and driven about the city and suburbs. They left for San Francisco at 6 o'clock.

THE WATER DISTRICT SETTLED—A CONVICT LARDENED.

WALLA WALLA Aug 28.—It is believed that the water authority of the garrison has been settled as all parties who have been taking water illegally from Garrison creek have agreed not to do so any more rather than have it brought against them for so doing. It is difficult to get people to go to court to see that water is not taken from adjacent gardens or orchards.

Lawrence Brothers from Dakota who had arranged to open a large general store in the new State of Washington have given up the idea and gone to Tacoma.

James Tate a native of Texas an inmate of the penitentiary here for horse stealing for nine years having served four has been paroled by Governor Moore of Washington and is one of the first in this section.

A small dwelling was burned, but could have been easily saved if water had been available.

The county commissioners were asked to write the town.

The origin is shrouded in mystery as there was no stove, nor had there been a light in the house for some time. An investigation will undoubtedly be made by the insurance companies.

A GLORIOUS DRUNK.

How the Neah Bay Indians Celebrated the Recent Seizure.

FORT TOWNSEND, W. T. Aug 28.—When the Indians on the Neah Bay Reservation in Bellingham returned to the reservation at Neah Bay they celebrated the event by indulging in a glorious drunk.

Calef Peter the owner who was aboard the schooner which had been sent was drunk by his son and was drawn.

Several minor casualties are reported.

A DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.

Two Men at Fort Angeles Not Expected to Recover.

Four Torpedoes Exploded Aug 28.—The explosion of the lumber mill at Fort Angeles exploded last week seriously injuring two men, who are not expected to live and badly bruising a third. The former, Nels Hauger and Henry Canniball, both injured.

A piece of steel penetrated the left cheek and under the ear of Hauger that required a weight of ninety pounds to remove.

STRANGE BEHAVIOR OF A YOUNG MAN—PAYMENT OF RAILROAD TAXES.

SALEM, Ore., Aug 28.—The following articles were filed at the secretary's office to-day: The Home Builders Association obtained a bill which will give lease and mortgage company and dispose of real estate place of business Portland; capital stock $50,000; H. F. Borden, H. E. Moore and John Simon Taylor, members of the Peumus and Red Lake Company, to deal in lumber; Portland capital stock $250,000 place of business Portland, L. D. Brown, Sherman Brown and E. R. Brown incorporators.

James Murray, a young man recently from Fort W. T. was found this afternoon on Front street living on his back in the hot sun. He was taken to the city jail on a drag and there examined. The physicians think he is playing possum to avoid having to sleep. No disposition of his case has yet been made.

C. N. Scott receiver of the Oregonian Rail way Company, United States, Mar 28, 1889, home of the steamer British Columbia last night stated that on August 6 the British captured the British sealing schooner, "Lion" of Vancouver, while taking seas in Bellingham.

THE COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.

Arrival of the Majority of the Delegates at San Fran. lace.

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 28.—The majority of the delegates to the commercial convention which meets in this city to-morrow for the purpose of combining the interests of the manufacturers of marine commerce and in caused energy in the construction of the navy, have already arrived, and to-morrow the trains and steamers will bring the remaining ones.

It is expected that there will be as many as 300 delegates present from different points on the coast.

Following are the delegates who arrived today from the north—Portland—Collier, Collier, McLean, Smith, Shively and J. J. Strobridge. Tacoma—Trotman, Sylvester, Collier, member of the Merchant's National bank of Tacoma. Marshal K. Snell, attorney. The Chamber of Commerce of Tacoma was well represented but Messrs. Collier and Snell were the only ones able to attend. The Astoria delegation consists of State Senator J. H. D. Gray, Col. G. C. Johnson of the Chamber of Commerce of Astoria, I. W. C. McCraugh and Samuel Elmore. Walla Walla—J. E. Boyer president of the national bank. Hon. M. O. George and Gen. Wm. H. Morrison of Portland. To-morrow morning some of the delegates from the north have expressed considerable dissatisfaction at the reception accorded them here by the local committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

THE BLYTHE WILL CONTEST.

Florence Testifies as to the Letters Written to and Received From the Deceased.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 28.—The majority of the cases standing during the trial of the Blythe by to-day, Judge Boalt gave the names of the persons who had been written to Thomas H. Blythe and those he had received from him. She identified them and explained where she had received the others.

The Blythe, who came from the country from England in 1888 and, while she had never seen his living she had viewed him at the undertaker's. Witness was cross-examined to the early life and conduct of Joseph Blythe and the case was then continued until to-morrow.

It has been stated that she will be the last witness examined to her side of the case.

THE DESPERADO'S FLIGHT.

The Thirty-seventh Annual Session of the Oregon M. E. Conference

Opening Preliminary Service—Election of Officers
—Assignment of Standing Committees—Book Concerns—Parts work—Elo

The thirty-seventh annual session of the Oregon conference of the M. E. Church convened at the Taylor street M. E. church at 9 A. M. Wednesday.

The opening preliminary service consisted of sacramental and other devotional exercises. Hymn 131 of the Methodist hymnal; a book, "Hail to the Lord's Anointed"; was sung. Prayer was offered by Rev. R. S. Macay, D. D. of the Macay school of theology, California.

Bishop Bowman made a few remarks introducing the sacramental service. Persons who had come to the altar in the use of this sacrament were exhorted to remember Christ until Christ risen Christ as a present Savior and the possibility of even now receiving the perfect love of the Savior in the heart. All were exhorted to look for this now and yet ever to seek to grow in the knowledge and love of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Bishop Bowman then proceeded to the administration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Supper was distributed in the usual manner among a number of the older members of the conference. The sacramental service closed with prayer by Rev. Bowm

BOOK CONCERN.

A report of the assets, liabilities and business of the two book concern, or publishing houses of the conference, was presented. The book concern or publishing house of the M. E. church was started by John Deeken of Philadelphia on a borrowed capital of $600 in 1850. The first book published was Webster's "Reader." The second was "Kempis' imitation of Christ." As he was told at the factory where this large order was filled, "This is the finest shipment that was ever sent from the far East, west of Chicago."

Most of his time has been spent in his travels—Oahu, Fiji, and Australia, and in the ministry of the Chinese. He is a member of the Chinese Christian conference of which he has been a member for about sixteen years. He has been twice a delegate from the Chinese conference to the general conference. Dr. Leonard is in the mines of Mo'ili'ili on Oahu. He received his degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1872. The doctor is a man of uncommon energy which gives him pluck and confidence addresses special effectiveness. His pronounced views on the subject of temperance and abstinence of which are well known throughout the whole country. His candidate on the prohibition ticket for mayor of Oahu against Governor Parker brought his name prominently before the public.

Dr. Leonard is the author of "The Medical Annals of the M. E. Church," a book on the subject of temperance and abstinence of which accompany this report. It has the honor to submit the sixteenth annual report of the superintendent of schools.

It follows the condensed summary of facts relating to the public schools of Portland for the year ending June 31, 1889, now for the third year in succession.

PROFESSIONAL PUGILISM.

story shows no man so powerful in any fit, that some other may not be called to whom victor and conqueror are to yield supremacy. Deplorable as some, an intense' public interest was tested in the fight between Jack Dempsey and George E. Blanche, which took Tuesday night at San Francisco and George E. Blanche, which took the apes of the California Athletic Club. This interest arose from the fact that Dempsey was in his class a pugilist, a conquer of sixty foemen, moreover had something of the gentle in his "make up," while La Blanche recognized as the pluckiest man that gave battle to Dempsey. Those interested in sporting events looked to see Dempsey victorious, and it is safe to say, every 100 were disappointed in him.

To argue under the shield of defeat is to chance "blow" did the world does not the situation. Dempsey is not an amount of popular interest displayed in the contest at San Francisco. Hundreds of prominent citizens at the club, and present gave encouragement to a triumph, a relief of barbarism, and one that the congress cannot settle any of their questions. It can only make recommendations.

The best result to be looked for from the settlement of international controversies by arbitration, is creation of reciprocity to steamship services, simplification of customs duties, adoption of a general international convention, covering patents and trade marks, and agreement on a common standard of silver coinage. Of course, however, the congress cannot settle any of these questions. It can only make recommendations.

The best result to be looked for from the conference is the improvement of the relations of the United States with other nations of America. Arrangements for trade may be made which will be profitable to all concerned. American countries might become customers to each other in a much larger degree than now, and they have many interests in common that would be promoted by amicable arrangements. If a common agreement could be reached on the topics to be considered, it would bind the states of America closer to each other, and the United States would derive important benefits therefrom.

WOOL AND WOOLENS.

The Boston Globe makes these remarks: "The importation of woolen goods from India at the rate of over $4,000,000 yearly, and has increased, according to the last reports, to $6,644,932. There is something for the 'home industry' people to put into their pipes and smoke. This increasing importation of foreign wool has led to a great deal of trouble. Every year of late the Indian goods that we import would, if only sold to the home market, give us a large surplus. But that such goods contended long in high favor here, is proved by carvings on the Parthenon which show in bold relief, the figures of contending men."

The Boston Globe makes these remarks:

"The importation of woolen goods from India or Greece, but pugilism or prize fighting received an impetus in England about middle of the seventeenth century, and soon rose to popularity, the nobility pronouncing it a sport and frequently taking part in it. Every year of late the Indian goods that we import would, if only sold to the home market, give us a large surplus. But that such goods contended long in high favor here, is proved by carvings on the Parthenon which show in bold relief, the figures of contending men."

But that such goods contended long in high favor here, is proved by carvings on the Parthenon which show in bold relief, the figures of contending men."

Which are thus answered by the Pitadiel Press:

"Is the duty on wool any higher now than formerly? And, if not, why should the woolen manufacturers not profit from it?"

"The increase in price of woolen goods from India or Greece, but pugilism or prize fighting received an impetus in England about middle of the seventeenth century, and soon rose to popularity, the nobility pronouncing it a sport and frequently taking part in it. Every year of late the Indian goods that we import would, if only sold to the home market, give us a large surplus. But that such goods contended long in high favor here, is proved by carvings on the Parthenon which show in bold relief, the figures of contending men."

When Mr. Dave Campbell whipped Mr. Reilly Tuk, OREGONIAN remarked, that he would be a big man among other fellow campions along, which remark Mr. Dempsey proved true in defeating Mr. Campbell's nose out of joint. However, Mr. Campbell continued a great liking for Mr. Dempsey, and a few days ago accompanied him to San Francisco, where on Tuesday night he had the satisfaction of seeing another man do for Mr. Dempsey what the latter had so artfully done for him. Verily, the nose of the ring shall be broken at last.

Opposition to modern pugilism is no disengagement to physical education and training. Plate looked with contempt on the man who cultivated the mind and neglected the development of sinew and muscle. He also considered local legislation defective in that it did not provide for popular gymnasium exercise. The former philosopher expressed the gist of the matter when he said "Gymnastics make men hard and bold, but under proper restrictions, they stimulate the spiritual element of their nature, make them courageous and bring their passions under control."

In 1811 Germany took the lead in making physical exercise to a system. The leges encourage it and the army recruiting. Plate looked with contempt on the man who cultivated the mind and neglected the development of sinew and muscle. He also considered local legislation defective in that it did not provide for popular gymnasium exercise. The former philosopher expressed the gist of the matter when he said "Gymnastics make men hard and bold, but under proper restrictions, they stimulate the spiritual element of their nature, make them courageous and bring their passions under control."

A movement will be made to induce the next congress to provide that all extensions of patents shall come within the jurisdiction of the commissioner of patents. The present patent laws give inventors rights for seventeen years, to be renewed for eight years by special act. Of 402,000 inventions, 56,000 extensions are already asked for, and the delay attendant upon special acts is very great. The new law would also lightened more routine work of congress that could be performed quite as well by the commissioner.

The republican vote of Virginia has grown from $400,000 in 1880, for Garfield, to 151,000 in 1888 for Harrison. General William Mahone leads the republican party in the gubernatorial campaign and predicts victory. It is admitted even by democratic papers that their party in that state "has made a deliberate attempt to commit political suicide." The party has failed to gain a platform that would suit every shade of political belief. Democratic leaders realize that the growing protection sentiment of Virginia dare not be satisfied.

The trainer ascertains by numerous tests the strength and endurance of the subject, as well as points of weakness, and he then decides to suggest the exercise that will produce a symmetrical development of all parts of the body. Professor Sargent of Harvard, reports that his class in 1880, a man lifted over 300 pounds; in 1884, maximum was 675 pounds, the men had proportionately improved in health and power, and nine of exercise is the requirement and preservation of health, and judicious physical training will enable the mind to realize more than professional ambitions and social lacks. The benefit. But professional athletes are an abus of such training, and such things are more promotive of private and public immorality.

A POLITICAL DILEMMA.

The democratic party, as at present constituted, is divided sharply into free trade and protectionists factions. This is admitted by the New York World, which says: "The political politicians of the party are anxious to enter the campaign of 1892 without being divided with a free trade platform. They ascribe their defeat at the last election to having espoused the cause of a reformed tariff. They see no prospect of carrying the country if, indeed, with this principle, and they are therefore anxious to have as little to do with it as possible. But there is another element which is of a different nature of thinking. As confidence is gained that the principle of tariff reform is a winning one, the practical politicians desire to have it adopted again with a principle, and the tariff reformers and free-traders are more determined than ever that the party will not go back upon the principle, that it will fight the question once again, if necessary."

The World admits that the people is difficult to tell who will be the democratic ticket and who will not.

Helped Improvements Being Made on the County Poor Farm

Mrs Charles Graham, an aged colored woman, found dead in Bed-David Monza's Last Outing

POOR HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS—The county poor house has been undergoing repairs and modifications that not only add much to its appearance but greatly increase its capacity as well. The entire building has been repainted and bricked with a good foundation, and an addition of 20 feet two stories in height, has been built on each side facing the road. The kitchen has been moved from the north side to the west end of the building, while a new roof covers the entire structure. As a result of these improvements, the building now presents a much more attractive appearance and the interior of the building has been rearranged so as to make more private sleeping apartments used where before there were dormitories used in connection with the male inmates.

A FINE CATALOGUE.—The Oregonian is in receipt of the annual catalogue of the Portland Business College and its associate school, the Capitol Business College of Salem. Thorough and superior work, printing as in all else, is characteristic of these management of these excellent schools. Those who have not already received a copy of this handsome catalogue should send for one. The samples of pen work by Mr. Vago, surpass even his usual high standard, and the printing executed by the White Printers Company of West Portland is a sample of fine work in which specialty that firm excels. Both publisher and printer may well be proud of their work on the new catalogue.

SUMMER DEATH OF A COLORED WOMAN.—Mrs. Charles Graham, an aged colored woman, was yesterday morning found dead sitting in a chair at her home near the corner of First and Sheridan streets. No one in the neighborhood had seen her since last Friday and the suspicion is that she has been dead some time. Everything in her room looked natural and in order and death must have overtaken her like gentle sleep. She was 50 years of age and has been an invalid for some time. She was the widow of Charles Graham, the barkeep on Yamhill between First and Second streets, who died suddenly in his shop several months ago.

DANGEROUS MEETING.—A special meeting of the board of directors of the St. Mary's Home was held last evening, at which it was decided to give a fair for the purpose of raising money to complete the building now under construction. The basement is up and the contract for the frame will go to bid next Monday. The building will cost $100,000 and the total amount to be given will be between $7000 and $8000 on hand so can be seen how much must be raised. Rev. Alphonse Gruss has just arrived from Kansas to take charge of the home association and will proceed at once to establish branches all over the diocese.

A LIBERAL DONATION.—The very hand some donation of $100 has just been made to the Children's Hospital by Mrs. C. W. Burrage, now of Canyon City, Colorado. Mrs. Burrage was one of the charter members of the Ladies' Relief Society of the city and for many years one of its most faithful and efficient workers. She still joyfully remembers the little ones at the door even tho' so far distant. Her name is shown on the list of donors.

WILL LIVE HERE.—Mr. Sherman Martin the son of a pioneer of Oregon, who settled at Cottage Grove Lane County in 1850 and who has spent most of his life in agriculture, San Francisco and elsewhere—has recently returned to Oregon and purposes making Portland his permanent home. He left San Francisco about two years ago and went to Seattle and engaged in business there from which he concluded to retire on account of the state of the. He will make his abode in this city and enterprising young men of this city will be welcome to him. He will live here for the remainder of his life.

DEATH OF A G. CUNNINGHAM.—Mr. A. G. Cunningham, for many years secretary of the Oregon & California Lumber Company died at his residence in East Portland Tuesday night at the age of 67 years. He has been in poor health for some time but had been confined to his room only about two weeks. He came here in 1872 to assume the secretarship of the Oregon & California, which he discharged efficiently and satisfactorily for about ten years. He is a dignified and urbane gentleman of strict integrity.

FAIR IN SOUTHERN AMERICA.—The south wing of the King's school on which work was commenced several months since is nearly completed. The outside has been given two coats of paint and all that remains to be done is inside finishing. Upon the completion of this the rooms will be furnished with all articles and other school equipment, the estimation being to have the building ready for occupancy by the fall term of school opens.

A DISASTERFUL APIRICORN.—The city board of charities is desirous of finding employment for a young man who has been sickly and is not able to do heavy work. He is ambitious and is willing to do anything that is his ground, and is desirous of a pleasant and would do any kind of service if anyone having light work to be done will have them direct at the office of the city board of charities No 14 Morrison street.

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.—Yesterday the charge of bairamy by baile against Leo Peterson the advertising agent preferred by W. A. Story was dismissed in East Portland Tuesday night at the age of 67 years. He has been in poor health for some time but had been confined to his room only about two weeks. The prosecutrix attorney stated that he made a thorough investigation of the case and was convinced that it was purely a case of malicious prosecution.

THE IAN WATSON.—Mr. David Monnies has been writing to us for three weeks. He states that every group he has found has a half dozen Chinese pheasants which card in defiance of the law is shot and prepared for table by the people in the neighborhood of Junction. He was informed that the pheasant is good eating, but did not try it. He enjoyed some fine fishing in the Willamette river.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST.—Uncle Myers' Third and Bourne resumed business yesterday. Their entire stock must be sold within sixty days on account of giving up business, after which time the store will be for lease and the fixtures for sale. The biggest bargains ever offered in the neighborhood in the city will be presented by the operator of this sale and the index should not fail to avail themselves of this opportunity.

A PARTY OF CAPITALISTS.—A party of Springfield Ill. capitalists consisting of B. H. Ferguson president of the Marine Bank of Springfield J. Taylor Smith vice president of the Indigo bank E. W. Jones a prominent merchant of that city L. Brown and Edward A. Wilson arrived here yesterday and left on the express for San Francisco.

AWARD OF A SCHOLARSHIP.—Yesterday morning Judge Job, again awarded a state scholarship to A. H. Washington son of Mr. Edward Washington cashier of the First National bank. There are about six more scholarships awaiting applications from ambitious young men capable of passing the required examination.

MISS SCOTT SIMPSON.—Active steps are being taken by the members of the Alpine Club to bring Miss Scott Simpson to Portland. Miss Simpson's lecture was out east. The book of the hour, Artist and Model, Price, 25c, at Baker's, 49 Washington street.

First Delivery of Ice on the Sweetwater in 1846 and 1851—No Soothing Given

Tell Spring

Quite recently the world has been told that ice was discovered near the summit and west of the Rocky mountains hidden in the high plateaus of that region. Within the past six months THE OREGONIAN has recited the fact that a company of which the late Hiram Smith, of Portland, was captain, and of which P. N. Cooke and Elijah Williams of Salem, all now deceased were members found such ice bedded in the mountain soil near the surface on the Sweetwater river in the summer of 1851.

Other and younger members of that company were T. McF. Patton Joseph Cooke Richard Williams Major George Williams and Mr. S. A. Clarke who kept a diary of the journey which he refers to and furnishes the following incident of the digging up of the ice in 1851.

With Bill and Mail Horses—In regard to the carpets for the 18th guard, which it has been reported were to be made at the East Mr. Gilliland the contractor states that the carpets will be received by mail in the roll and will be cut and made up here and laid by Portland workmen.

ANOTHER NEW BUILDING.—Tiles are being driven at the corner of Front and Yamhill streets on which to build the stone foundation for a handsome five story building, which it is believed will propose to erect in the summer. The stone walls will be built up to the street level this fall.

COWING HOUR.—Mr. James C. Wood worth assistant general freight agent of the O. R. & N. Co. who has been attending a meeting of the Transcontinental Association left Denver on his way home yesterday and will probably arrive here Sunday.

GOLDFISH HUNTING EXPEDITION.—Mr. T. F. Wallace started for Farmington, Washington county yesterday, on a gold hunting expedition. He will return which he has killed as many birds as his horse can pack.

Mrs. BROWN'S artist having returned from her vacation will be pleased to see her friends and scholars at studio 11½ Third near Alder.

Portland's BIG TAVERN

New 6 deaks—Fire escape Apartments—The Plasterers at Work

The maple trees which stood in front of the big hotel have been cut down the job has been cleared away along the whole front and a forest of trees are sprung in laying an artificial stone walk there. It is to be expected around the whole block at one time and contractor Oberholzer notified the other contractors that if they did not clear away their debris, he would do it for them for bricks and other rubbish were being carted off at a lively rate yesterday.

The iron fence posts have been cut down the different stones have been cut by an iron ladder forming a very stiff fence. The fence is such as is used in large hotels etc. in such as is use in my large hotel. Along this ladder a stand pipe is placed with a valve at the bottom which is a sum of only matter what a queer point small as there is clear water underneath it. It is a curious repeat.

LASTING WEAR.—We are in the market to sell what we have in our hands. We learned of a woman crossing the plains before it was up to a quarter of a mile from the road the garments she was wearing were torn to shreds. The substance of the skirt was all torn and she had to sit on the plain nearly and often before that there is no doubt that this supposed natural wear. We petroleum and this show that the recent discovery of this region is only a small part of what the ladies who go to town to old mountain men and women. The journal says of date July 1
